

Corporate Profiling Events

Once you venture into the job market, you will be competing with thousands of other graduates. To ensure that you leave UBD with more than just a piece of paper, we have career-related activities especially for you to sign up for and attend for you to have the opportunity to gain insights from recruiters as well as your successful seniors in various fields.

One of those activities is the Corporate Profiling event where CoNECT offers employers the opportunity to be featured in campus at a set time, a way for them to make themselves known as well as network with the UBD community.

During their time here, employers can also choose to facilitate career development workshops such as on communication, recruitment process, and what it means to be a part of their organization/team.

It is hoped that through this event, it can assist you to

- be more informed on the career options available for you out there;
- make the right choices on your future career;
- grow your professional network and be more connected with potential employers;
- raise your employability in the job market; and
- be more familiar with the job application and selection processes.

We have already gotten some slots filled for the upcoming year so be sure to keep an eye out on the dates for January and February 2017 on our Calendar or via our social media accounts:
